MUSICAL COMEDY IS COMING HERE NEXT THURSDAY

"The Rainbow Girl" Is Highly Recommended Musical Show of Better Type—Here Next Week.

There will be musical comedy in the Washington Theater when "The Rainbow Girl" receives its first presentation here on Thursday, October 21st.

"The Rainbow Girl" has been pronounced the crowning triumph of Gleason and Block's musical comedy successes, and if its high quality has been maintained, and every evidence points in that direction, its records of the past seasons will undoubtedly be repeated here.

Rich in music by Louis A. Hirsch, having at least twenty musical numbers, and full of dramatic possibilities which came from the comedy "Fanny and the Servant Problem," by Jerome K. Jerome, upon which "The Rainbow Girl" was founded, it had everything in its favor to make it a success. The revised edition of the story written for the musical comedy state, is the work of Renold Wolf.

It is Olla Mack, first comedian, who carries the burden of the fun. The principal comedy role, being that of an itinerant actor known among his friends as "Buck" Evans, a role which has distinguished him as one of the leading comedians of musical comedy. Frank Farrington, second comedian, assists Mack in getting the laughs in the grotesque character of an English butler, the head of the famous Bennett family of this piece. The other laugh-provoking contingent of the exquisite offering includes the Misses Burby and Merriman, the spinster sisters; Ramsey De Mar, he of the Bennett family; and Johnnie Jordan, the little parlor maid; they, too, have been allied with this company in their respective parts since it was produced. The enchanting warblers include Katherine Shaw and George Lydecker. It is Miss Shaw who is singing the prima donna role.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS MADE AT RESTAURANT

Model Restaurant Installs Beautiful New Fixtures Which Add Much to Attractiveness of Popular Place.

Extensive improvements have been made in the Model Restaurant, in West Second street, which makes this already attractive eating place, one of the city's beauty spots.

A beautiful new backstand and a fine new counter have been installed. The backstand is one of the most beautiful seen in Maysville. The stand is decorated with copper and the mirrors in the stand are very large ones.

Other improvements including the installation of a new and attractive refrigerator, are contemplated and the progressive managers, Messrs. Frank Hauche and James Frost, are to be congratulated upon their progressive spirit shown in these very expensive improvements.

TIME FOR BAND CLASSES IS ANNOUNCED.

Prof. Barnard, director of the Maysville Boys' Band met with the members of the new band at the rooms in the Caproni building Tuesday evening. He has announced special class work for the members of this new band as follows: Clarinets on Monday afternoon; cornets on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon; Alto, Melophone and Trombone on Thursday afternoon, and Baritone and drums on Friday afternoon. These afternoon classes will meet after school adjourns.

THREE TRAINMEN OVERCOME IN GAS- FILLED TUNNEL

Engine Runs Wild After Crew Become Unconscious as Spark Ignites Natural Gas in Tunnel.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 13.—When sparks from their engine ignited natural gas which had filled a tunnel near Ashland, a Chesapeake & Ohio engineer and two firemen were severely burned and rendered unconscious, and the engine ran uncontrolled for some distance.

G. W. Sanders, engineer, Lexington; W. M. Debord, Grays, Ky., and Herbert Donoway, Olive Hill, firemen, were driving a freight train through Princeton tunnel, seven miles west of Ashland.

Natural gas, which had leaked into the tunnel from a gas main, became a mass of fire, enveloping the trainmen, as the engine sparks set it afire.

Other trainmen, protected in the caboose, climbed forward over the cars when they sensed that something was wrong with the engine crew. They found all three unconscious.

The men were burned so severely that they were brought to a hospital here for treatment. Sanders is the only one able to talk, and it is feared that the sight of the two others may be destroyed.

They had tried to protect themselves by falling on the floor of the cab. Besides burning every square inch of flesh on their faces, the fire singed the hair from their heads as far up as their caps.

DRILLING FOR OIL IN FLEMING COUNTY.

The oil drilling outfit which was brought here recently was taken to the place of Miss Julia Reeves near Colfax last week and drilling is expected to begin at once. Mr. Spencer of Chicago who is interested in the drilling has been here visiting his brothers and looking after the business. Drilling began yesterday.—Fleming Gazette.

HEALTH CONDITION IS NOW MORE ENCOURAGING.

The health condition throughout the city and county is now more encouraging, according to the local physicians. Parents are warned, however, by the Health Department to take every precaution and no illness of the children at this time should be allowed to pass lightly.

PHYSICAL TRAINING SCHOOLS INTERESTING.

As required by the state all local schools are now devoting time to the physical training of the students and the physical exercises are proving quite interesting to the students. This exercise is expected to be of much value to the students during their school years, and afterward.

COAL INVESTIGATION JURY DIDN'T INDICT

Information Held Over Heads of Operators—Jury Should Have Commendation of Public.

Covington, Ky., Oct. 13.—Declaring coal operators of the Eastern district of Kentucky have agreed to conform to price fixed, the special grand jury made its final report to Judge A. M. J. Cochran in United States Court late Tuesday. No indictments were returned, although it had been rumored earlier in the day that there would be several hundred.

The jury directed that all the data be preserved for future grand juries in case the operators should not continue to charge the prices fixed.

The jury recommended that small wagon mines and camel mines be allowed to add the extra cost of hauling to charge the prices fixed.

Judge Cochran told the jurors they should receive the commendation of all coal consumers. When they went into session several weeks ago, court officials say, coal was selling for as high as $11 a ton at some Kentucky mines. The jurors fixed a scale of prices ranging from $4.40 to $5 per ton, according to grade, and announced that unless operators abided by this scale they would be indicted.

WOULD REPEAL PROFITS TAX.

Piqua, O., October 13.—A resolution asking the American Bankers' association to urge Congress to repeal the excess profits tax was passed by representative bankers of twelve Northern Ohio counties, representing Group 2 of the Ohio Bankers' association, in session here today. S. W. McFarland of Wapakoneta was elected vice chairman of the association, all other officers holding over.

DIAMOND BROKER KILLS ROBBER.

New York, October 13.—Seized by three men and dragged into a narrow hallway, William Stern, diamond broker, shot and killed one man, later identified as Paul Boletano, bank robber. The other two robbers took to their heels, with the diamond broker in pursuit. Stern might have managed to catch or kill both of them, had not the police stopped him and placed him under arrest. Stern was carrying diamonds valued at $2,000.

ROSE GOES ON TRIAL TODAY FOR MARCH'S MURDER

Lexington Constable Who Shot and Killed Wealthy Furniture Dealer Goes On Trial Today.

George Rose, Lexington constable, who shot and killed E. L. March, Lexington furniture dealer, Thursday afternoon in the yard of The Britling apartments, on South Broadway, will go on trial in the Fayette Circuit Court today for murder. The case was assigned last Friday by Judge Charles Kerr, following Mr. Rose's release on bond.

That Mr. Rose will be tried is practically assured as Attorney Harry Miller and W. C. G. Hobbs, counsels for the defense, both stated Tuesday that the defense would insist upon the trial of the case when it is called today. The Commonwealth, it is believed will offer no objection, as on all other previous phases of the case it has agreed.

Mr. Rose will be tried on the indictment returned against him last Friday by the grand jury. Within 20 minutes after the indictment had been returned, he had been released on $5,000 bond, which was approved by the court. Mr. Rose's bond was signed by his brother Alex Rose.

The case of W. M. Swope, prominent Fayette county farmer, charged with detaining a woman against her will, is also set for trial Wednesday. Swope, who is 70 years old, is accused of having detained Mrs. Zena Kanatzer, wife of one of the tenants on Swope's farm. Swope was indicted after Judge Bullock had held him to the grand jury following an examining trial.

NEW GRADED SCHOOL TAX HELD INVALID

Ruling of Court of Appeals Affects Many Schools—Mason Schools Not Affected.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 13.—Kentucky graded schools cannot levy the additional 50 cent levy provided in the act of the 1920 Legislature, the Court of Appeals decided Tuesday. The act is unconstitutional, it held.

The old law placed the maximum to be levied in graded school districts at 75 cents. The Legislature, having in view the increased teachers' salaries and other greater expenses, added a special levy of 50 cents.

The Court of Appeals overruled a motion to dissolve the injunction in the case of the Tompkinsville Graded School District against George W. Jackson, from Monroe county.

The opinion by Judge Sampson holds the title of the act is misleading and in conflict with Section 51 of the Constitution.

This decision neither effects the Maysville or the Mason county schools. There are no graded school districts in Mason county, all our county schools being consolidated or county-controlled schools. The Germantown schools are controlled through a graded school district but as the building is in Bracken county, Mason county has no jurisdiction over it. The decision does not affect city schools in the state.

WHISKEY RING IN CHICAGO IS TO BE UNCOVERED

Kentucky Distiller Implicated in Big Whisky Ring—Large Bribes Paid Public Officials.

Chicago, October 13.—Federal authorities today are following trails that they believe will lead them to the leaders of a gigantic liquor ring that already has consummated deals in contraband whisky aggregating approximately $3,000,000. Men high in public life are said to be involved, reports current today declaring that two members of Congress are implicated.

It is alleged that bribes aggregating more than $200,000 have been paid public officials in Chicago within the last five weeks. Persons connected with the internal revenue and prohibition departments are said to have received sums ranging from $5,000 to $50,000.

United States District Attorney Cline declared today that evidence he intended to present to the grand jury would disclose a scandal that would "shake" Chicago.

Existence of the ring was disclosed, it is said, through the confession of H. A. Sadler, a former New York Stock broker, who is alleged to have been one of the ring's agents in the disposal of the liquor. Sadler's confession is said to have involved a former member of the Illinois Legislature, and ten others, among them the owner of a distillery in Louisville, Ky. The former legislator, it is charged was paid a bribe of $30,000 in a transaction involving $125,000 worth of contraband liquor.

One woman employed in one of the Government offices in Washington is said to have been a pawn in the hands of the "ring."

BOY GUN USER'S CASE AGAIN POSTPONED.

The examining trial of Russel Shelton, sixteen-year-old boy who shot and wounded Irene Tolle, twelve-year-old girl, several days ago, was to have been called before Juvenile Judge H. P. Purnell this afternoon but because of the inability of the girl to appear in court, the case was again continued until Saturday of this week. The little girl is reported as doing as well as could be expected.

A revival meeting is in progress at the Two Lick Baptist church near Germantown and large crowds are attending each service. The pastor, Rev. Beal, is doing the preaching.
